Editors Dispatch: The Committee on Ci-now pending before the Legislature to make a toll-bridge of the Free bridge of enough importance to hear argument upon the sub-ject for ten or twelve days. In fact, the subject was elaborately argued by Major

Mr. C. A. Attkisson against the bill; the Board of Public Interests met and also heard argument for hours, and decided unanimously against the bill; but the Board tribute in money, the amount of which has not yet been ascertained, but which, it may be assured, will be sufficient to pay two toll-gatherers-one for the night and one for the day; enough to pay the full and just demands of some favorite of the Councils for repairs, to say nothing of the sums that will be required to pay the political demands and expenses of the office-holding rings of Richmond and Manchester; other leakages need not be mentioned. But the expectant people of Richmond and Manchester care not for this;

they are accustomed to an extravagant and wasteful use of the public money. But they do complain deeply and loudly at the ridiculous attitude in which the city of Richmond is placed, and at the stigma cast upon her fair name and upon her fame for that Vir-

Election Outrages at the North.

The investigation into the late election in outrages upon the rights of voters prac-election law, by little Johnny Davenport, chief supervisor of elections, were very been reported from the South in recent years. Armed with the full authority of pears, arrested over 9,300 persons for alleged violations of the election law. But of the whole number he fetched to trial only some five hundred. In other words, of every eighteen arrests by him made seventeen were made without cause, and that fact to prosecute 8,800 of the persons arrested.

dignity of arrest on charge of crime, must,

of course, have been held for trial had they not been entitled to vote. They were not them upon trial. These, therefore, were lawfully their lawful right to vote. How many of them, in addition to being subjected to unwarranted arrest, were kept locked up until the polls closed, does not nearly all on the day of election, and the delays that necessarily occur in procuring sureties and giving bail, it is evident that a great majority of these 8,800 lawful voters arrested for attempting to vote were thereby deprived of their right to vote. What redress is there for these thousands thus robbed of their right to vote? Their release without trial is a confession that they were arrested without any evidence against them. Manifestly they were illegally arrested in order to deprive them of the exercise of the elective franchise. But it was done under authority of the United States, and the men thus robbed of the bullot are left without redress. Yet no greater out-

That the United States election-law could be made the instrument of such glaring injustice is conclusive proof that it needs radical amendment, or should be totally abolished. Nowhere in the country, North or South, is the condition such as to warrant this system of wholesale arrests without any evidence of probable cause. Nowhere in a free country can such system of arbitrary arrests be decently tolerated.

It is a monstrous satire upon the United States election law that it admits of such abuse. It is more disgraceful than the bulldozing against which, nominally at least, the law was aim ed. If the control of elections in all the States is to be assumed by the General Government—that is, by the Administration, whatever it may be—at least let there be an end put to the possibility of such wholesale arbitrary arrests and robbery of voters of the right to vote. If the proper amendments to accomplish this cannot be passed, it is yet within the power of the House to cut off all appropriations for executing this
